DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 4-8 and 10-13, drawn to Mts protein multimers and pharmaceutical compositions thereof, classified in class 530, subclass 350 and class 514, subclass 2.
- II. Claims 14, 15, and 19-25, drawn to methods of treatment using Mts protein multimers, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- III. Claims 16-23, drawn to methods of gene therapy, classified in class 435, subclass 455.

Claims 19-23 appear in two groups because they depend from multiple claims and encompass different inventions.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the proteins can be used in a materially different process, such as the generation of antibodies.

Inventions I and III are not related. The protein multimers of Invention I cannot be used in the gene therapy methods of Invention III.

Inventions II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the nucleic acids of Invention II have other uses, such as hybridization studies.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the searches required for the different groups are not coextensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

For Inventions II and III, the species are:

- a) Parkinson's disease
- b) Alzheimer's disease
- c) Down's syndrome

Art Unit: 1646

- d) stroke
- e) cardiac arrest
- f) sciatic crush
- g) spinal cord injury
- h) injury to sensory neurons
- i) degenerative disease of the retina.

These are each different conditions with different etiologies involving different cells and having different characteristics. Successful treatment of one would not render successful treatment of another obvious.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1646

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Janet Andres, Ph.D., whose telephone number is (703) 305-0557. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday from 8:00 am to 5:30 pm.
